ENVOY

AMBASSADOR UNIVERSITY

BIG SANDY, TEXAS ♦ VOLUME 36 1997

Mr. Joseph W. Tkach

Chairman of the Board of Regents

Chairman's Statement

Dear Envoy Reader:

For 50 years, Ambassador has provided leadership for the Worldwide Church of God. But the original mission of Ambassador University has been completed. And it has been completed in an honorable and dignified manner that befits the reputation and integrity of the institution.

For thousands of young men and women, Ambassador has been instrumental in the preparation of lives of service to Jesus Christ and His church.

There is no question that AU has served the church well. Now God is showing us that its mission is ending, and that it is time for the church to find other ways to meet the educational needs of its young people who want to be trained for church work.

We will not soon be over the emotional pain of having to close Ambassador. But, following God's leadership, I know He is with us in this decision. And I know that when He closes one door, He opens another.

I want to thank and encourage you--every student, faculty and administrative member--for your tireless work in fulfilling Ambassador's mission. And I want to encourage each one of you as you enter the next chapter of your life to always look to our Great God and our Savior, Jesus Christ, for continued guidance and direction in representing all that Ambassador stands for. You truly are "Ambassadors for Christ."

Sincerely,

Joseph Tkach, Chairman
Board of Regents

Dear Friends, Supporters,
Faculty and Students:

As Ambassador completes 50 years of service, this is my final Envoy message.

I know, personally I will greatly miss Ambassador University and the Big Sandy campus, for it has such a rich history in the annals of the Worldwide Church of God. I grew up a mile from Ambassador's Pasadena campus, and attended the Big Sandy campus from 1966 through 1970. I was hired to teach at Ambassador, Big Sandy, in 1984 and became its last president in September, 1995.

Through its students and graduates, Ambassador has given 50 years of service to the Worldwide Church of God, and people, families, organizations and communities all over the globe. Thousands of lives have been changed for the better.

We must remember that God directs our path and is with us. And he has shown that Ambassador's race is run, and this portion of the course is finished. I count it a great privilege having worked with and for each and every one of you as Ambassador's President.

I sincerely want to thank all those who have prayed, contributed and supported Ambassador over the years. Without you, we could not have accomplished the quality of programs, nor the great strides in achievement that we did.

We should take great joy in what our small denomination has accomplished through Ambassador, closing with integrity and dignity, albeit with sorrow.

Though these times are truly difficult, Jesus Christ guides us each and every one of us into the future. We will all remember and live what Ambassador has taught us. And although the institution closes after its 50th year, our personal commitments to being Ambassadors for Christ lives on in our day-to-day lives, our families, our work, and our service to our fellow man.

To each and every one of you, my prayers are with you. Carry on as Ambassadors for Christ!

Sincerely,

Russell K. Duke, President
Ambassador University

HERBERT W. AND LOMA D.
ARMSTRONG

CO-FOUNDERS OF

The Ambassador Within . . .

It was late 1945. The atomic bomb had just ended World War II. A jubilant America was celebrating the Allied victories over Germany and Japan. Mothers rejoiced to have their sons home, thoughts of world peace now seemed possible, and the greatest war effort ever known to mankind was beginning to unwind.

At the same time, in the United States' Pacific Northwest, the pastor of a small church group was trying to build a new evangelistic effort. In twelve years, this preacher, with his wife at his side, had built a small, yet loyal, listening audience for his Sunday morning radio program. Starting out as a broadcast church service, this program had developed into a news analysis of global events, from a Bible prophecy perspective. It produced excellent ratings for radio stations, and the word was spreading. Suddenly, daily broadcasting opened its door on 2 superstations. Not one to shy away from a seemingly impossible challenge, the 53-year old minister soon found himself flooded with listener response. Realizing that he could not continue pastoring, writing and broadcasting without specially-trained manpower, Herbert W. Armstrong, in December, 1945, first discussed with his wife, Loma, the idea of starting a college.

The rest is history. Through sheer faith in Jesus Christ, and not much else, Ambassador was born in the fall of 1947. Four students, eight instructors, a building, and a mission — a 50-year mission that would touch millions of lives with the gospel of the Kingdom of God.

The story of Ambassador is inextricably entwined with that of the Worldwide Church of God. Without Ambassador, the minute church, with only a handful of faithful, could never have become a global work.

Ambassador became the backbone and muscle of one of the most astounding miracles in the history of creation.

High points? On the organizational level: The World Tomorrow sponsored by Ambassador became the largest purchaser of radio time in America, heard over 300 stations worldwide. The World Tomorrow Television achieved the second highest sustained rating of any religious program, viewed over 260 stations. The Plain Truth Magazine, published in 7 languages, achieved a readership in excess of 20 million in 196 countries. Educational materials, estimated in the tens of millions of copies, were provided for the asking. For twenty years, Ambassador Auditorium earned critical acclaim for setting an unsurpassed standard of excellence in the performing arts. On the personal level: Foreign projects employed Ambassador students and graduates who taught true values to those of other cultures. Community outreaches benefitted from Ambassador volunteers. The list is endless: Archeological excavations. Intercollegiate sports. Music and the Arts. Public radio broadcasting. High academic standards. Regional accreditation. National recognition. Life-long friendships. Marriages and families.

For fifty unbelievable years, Ambassador has remained true to its original mission. It has held a lamp to guide the way for young and old, rich and poor, Christian and non-Christian, to find and live the true values. It was God who first flashed the idea of Ambassador into Herbert Armstrong's mind, and it was God who developed Ambassador into a global influence far beyond what its physical resources alone could ever produce. And it is that same all-knowing, all-powerful, Sustainer of the universe who has shown that Ambassador's 50-year mission as an organization is accomplished. The physical, corporate effort called Ambassador University is no longer needed.

God has used the gifts and talents of thousands of people over the years to create Ambassador. And each of us should take humble, yet genuine pride in what we've accomplished under Christ's direction, for God can truly say "Well done, good and faithful servants."

Therefore, we remember and honor all of those whose positive contributions made Ambassador possible. Beginning with Loma and Herbert Armstrong, and including administrators, teachers, students, contributors and partners in prayer, we have all been coworkers in a modern-day miracle.

Ambassador University may close its doors, but its mission continues on. It becomes an individual one — our own personal mission. No longer facilitated through corporate resources and programs, it will be accomplished through Ambassadors living successful personal lives, utilizing their individual talents and resources, and being guided by their working relationships with Jesus Christ.

All that was and is Ambassador will continue as . . . The Ambassador Within.

The Ambassador Within each of us will shine as a personal light for others seeking true values.

The Ambassador Within each of us will set a personal example for others, of truly successful living.

The Ambassador Within each of us will guide us personally to love, help and serve our fellow man.

As we go forward, let us carry on our Father's work — the work of Ambassador University — inspired, motivated and empowered by . . .

. . . The Ambassador Within.

A year to remember.... - Freshman orchestra member, Heather Guy, has had a busy year as one of the resident flutists on campus. Her year included participation in the chapel ensemble and touring as part of the Young Ambassadors' musical ensemble.

Dual roles - Aside from their beautiful contributions in orchestra, violinists, Bobby Smitherman and Debbie Singer, served in additional capacities around campus. Debbie serves as Drama Club President and Bobby shares his additional talent on guitar in the chapel ensemble and campus dances.

Upright or electric - Freshman bassist, Joel Denny, nails bass lines with flair on both! He can be found playing alongside his fellow orchestra member and friend, Bobby Smitherman - an incredible duo.

Activity Highlights

- Outreach worked with on projects such as blood drives, Make a Difference Day, and a Community Fundraiser.
- The Outreach Visiting Program served senior citizens and mentally and physically challenged children in the community by providing warm and friendly social interaction.
- Through programs such as Adopt-A-Highway, Inreach, and Habitat for Humanity, the Service Initiative Program gave Outreach volunteers opportunities to fulfil the needs of the community.

Playing around - Mike Guibord and Joel Clevenger play with the kids at the Truman Smith center in Gladewater. Volunteers made several visits throughout the year, due to the close proximity of the center to campus.

Young riders - Volunteer Nadine MacNeil looks on as the instructor preps a new rider on how to mount his horse at the Windridge Equestrian Center. Nadine is working as a "leader," with the responsibility of helping the rider keep control of the horse and keep the horse from straying off the trail.

Activity Highlights

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR:

As I sit here on the last day of production for this final Envoy, I can't help but think how much God has blessed this project. Originally, due to budget cuts for the year, a 1997 Envoy was not going to be produced. However, with the help and sacrifice of many volunteers, both student and otherwise, who gave of their time and energy, as well as the support of administration, this book came into being.

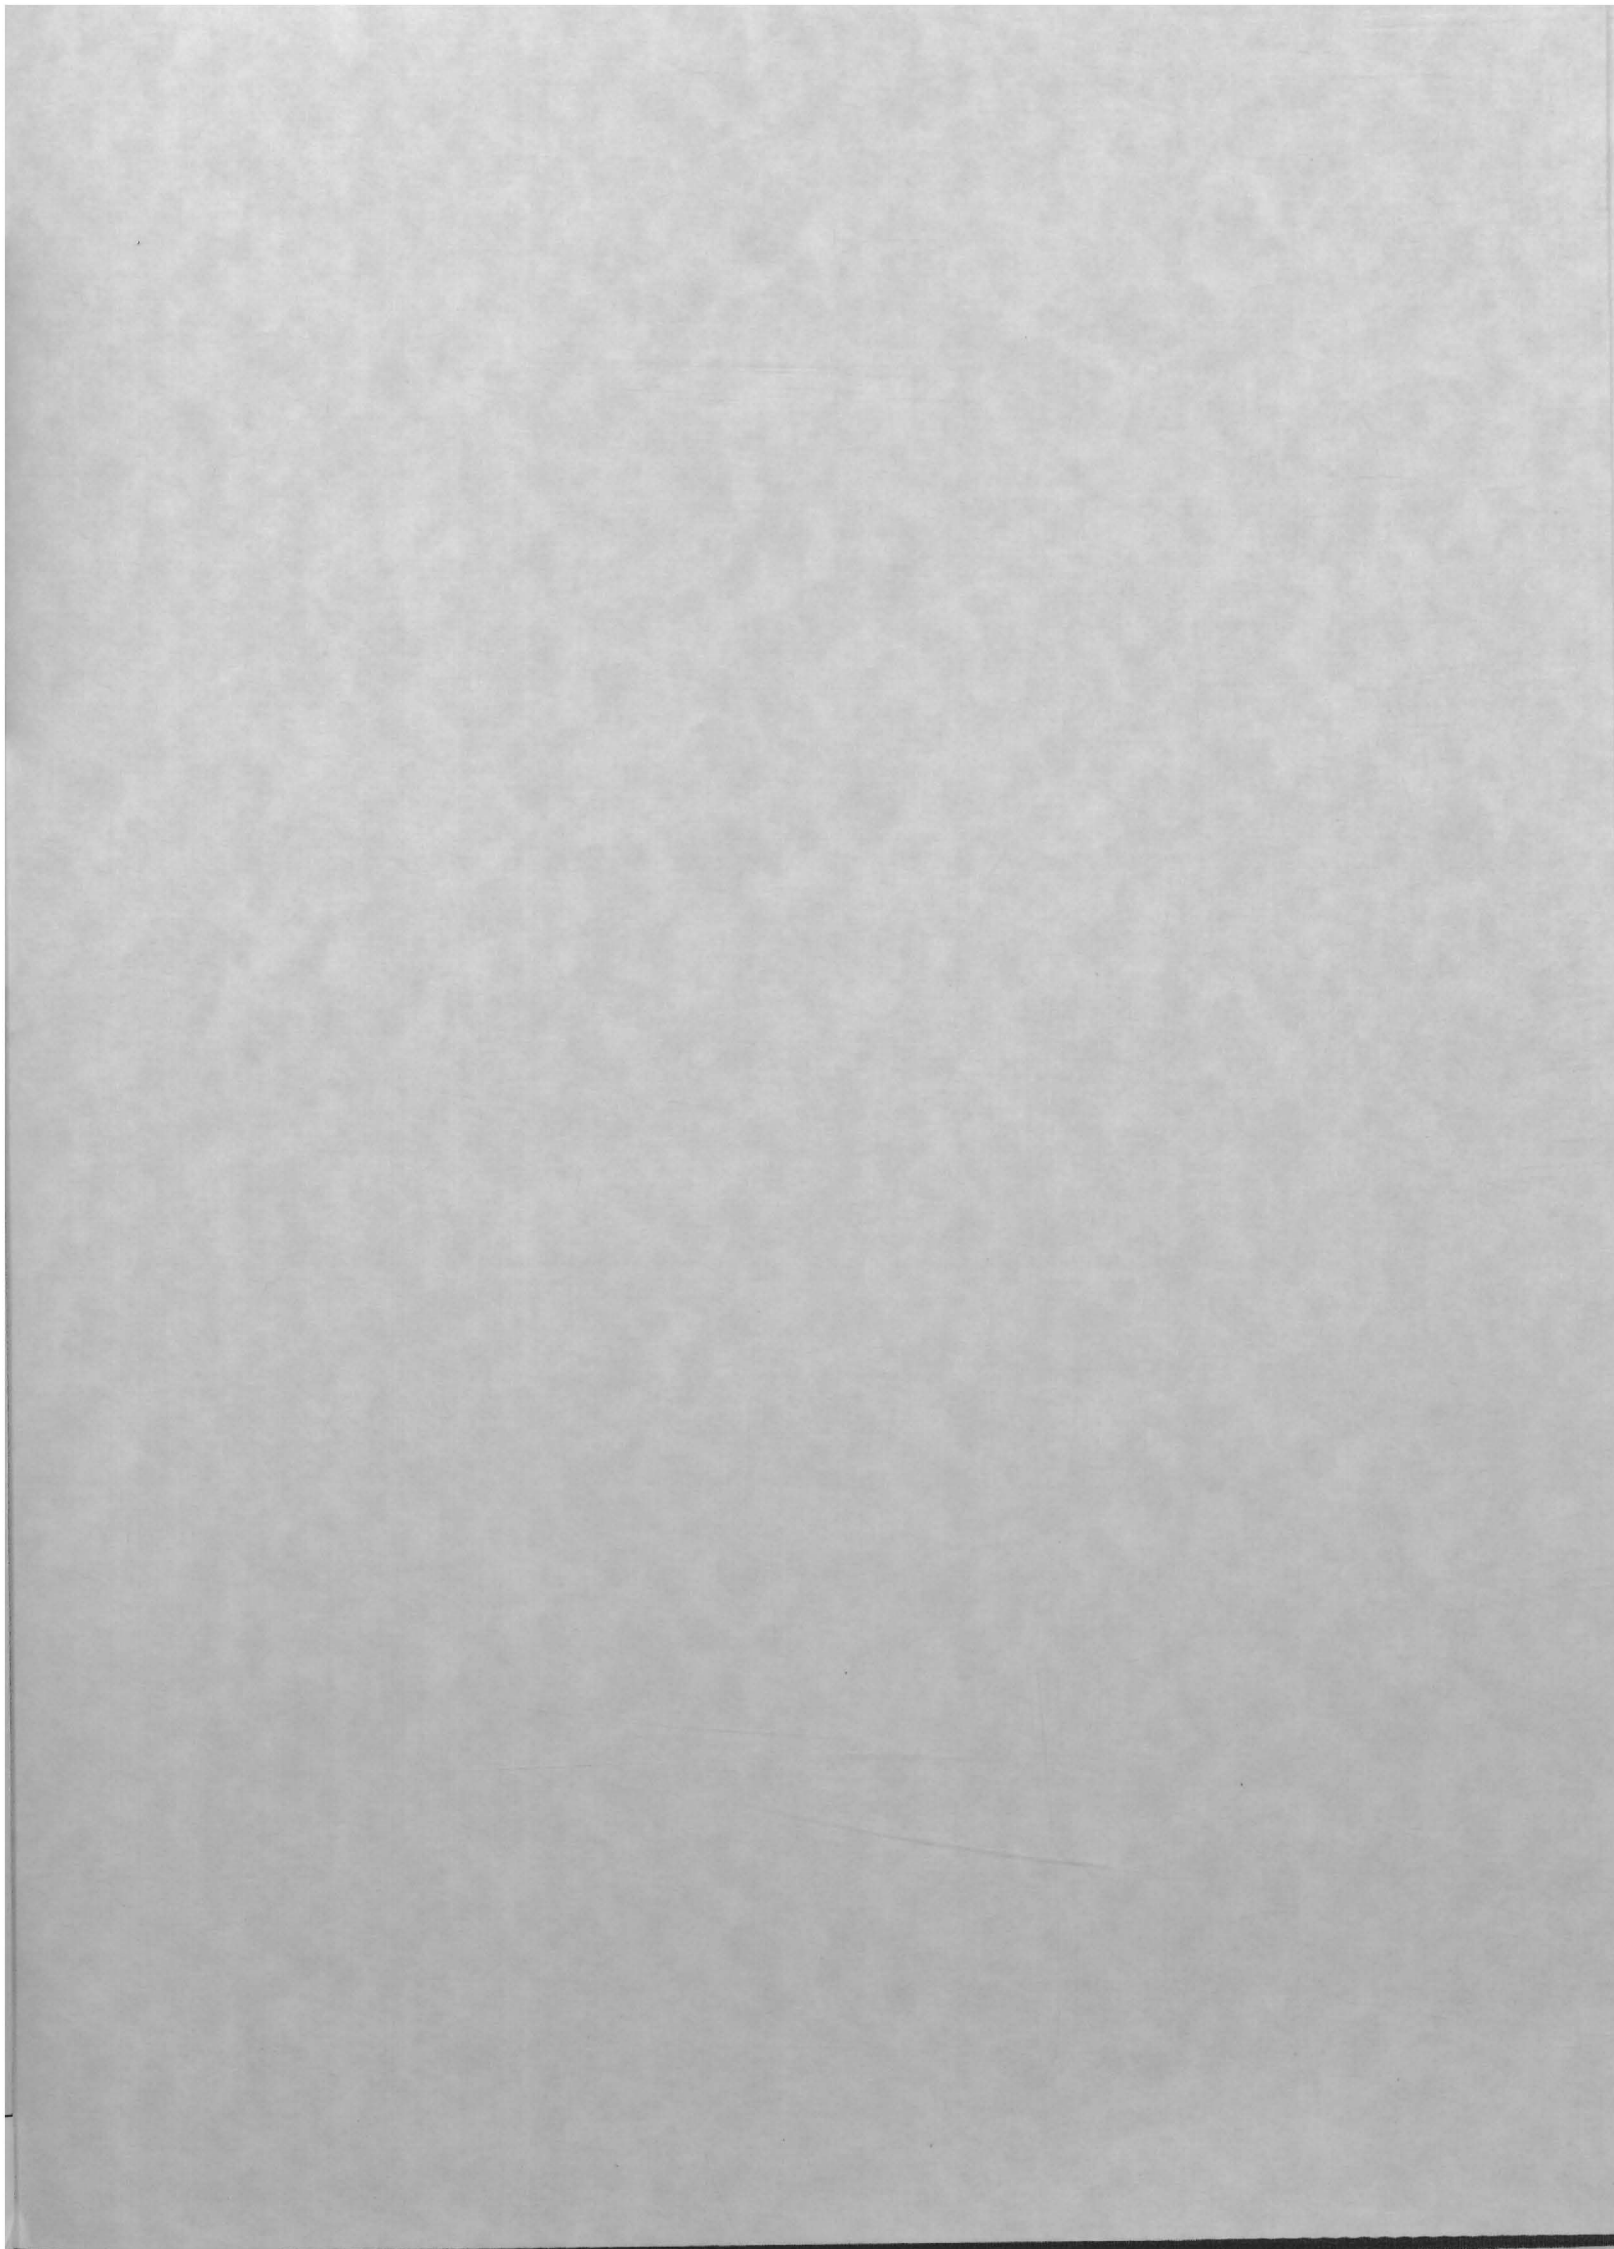

My staff was wonderful; they really rolled with the punches and stuck to it. It was wonderful working with them -- this experience wouldn't have been half as fun without their positive, optimistic attitudes and energy! Thank you so much.

While reflecting on the closing of Ambassador University, I realize, once again, how thankful I am for what it has done for so many lives, including my own. The last four years have truly been the best four years of my life. And, while I am sad to see AU close its doors, I know deep in my heart that it will still live on in the hearts and lives of all who've been a part of the Ambassador experience. There truly is an Ambassador within us. Let's not keep it inside, but share it with all of those who never had the opportunity to experience it themselves.

For all Ambassador has given me, I feel privileged to have been a part of this 50th Anniversary Envoy.

Reader, this book is for you. May you remember with warm memories the place we've called home... Ambassador.
